

FEATURING

Dana Gills

Director of Production and Development

LIONSGATE

Dana Gills is a champion of inclusion and representation in the entertainment industry, and works to create more layered portrayals of marginalized communities by collaborating with diverse talent. At Lionsgate, where she works with all content divisions, Gills is co-creator and chair of the Lionsgate Multicultural Employee Resource Group (MERG), which advocates for a more inclusive workplace and entertainment landscape. She was recognized in Variety's 2018 Inclusion Impact Report, and is the co-creator of the web series "Milk & Honey," which promotes more multifaceted portrayals of black women.
